Reasons for Allowance

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The closest prior art references are Haug et al (Acta Chemica Scandinavica, Vol. 23, p. 2955-2962 (1969)) and Smidsrod et al (Acta Chemica Scandinavica, vol. 19, p. 143- 152 (1965)).

Haug et al teaches the preparation of alginate from the a mixture containing mannuronic acid residues and guluronic acid residues in the following steps: hydrolysis, oxidative and reductive degradation, alkaline degradation, and fractional precipitation.

1. in the hydrolysis, alginate (0.5 % w/v) in citrate buffer (pH 3.8) was heated under reflux and then the mixture was cooled and neutralized with sodium bicarbonate;
2. in the oxidative and reductive degradation, aqueous alginate was mixed with ascorbic acid and hydrogen peroxide in order to conduct the process;
3. in alkaline degradation, the reaction mixture of alginate and tripotassium phosphate was inhibited in the presence of potassium borohydride; after heating, the mixture was cooled and neutralized with acetic acid;
4. In fractional precipitation, alginate degraded at pH 3.9 during the heating was precipitated .

Smidsrod et al teaches the use of hydrogen peroxide $\text{FeCl}_3 \cdot \text{H}_2\text{O}$ as a degradation catalyst in the preparation of alginate.

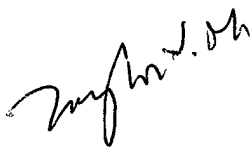

However, the instant invention differs from the prior art that a polyuronic acid has an average degree of polymerization less than 20; a solution contains 5 wt % or more a lithium salt of polyuronic acid ; the use of ferrous salt and alcohol is involved in the process .

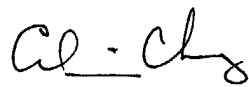

Furthermore, in retrospect, applicants' attorney made convincing arguments as to the short-comings of the primary references. In addition, unless all limitations of the claims are met, there is no prior art rejection. See In re Zurko 59 USPQ 2d 1690 (Fed Cir. 1991) and In re Lee, 61 USPQ 1430 (Fed Cir. 1991).

Therefore, applicants' claimed subject matter would not have been obvious to the person with an ordinary skill in the art.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Any inquiry concerning the communication after allowance such as sending all post-allowance correspondence should be directed to "Box Issue Fee" or faxed directly to PUBS at 703-305-8755. This will expedite the process of these papers.
